

Hotel Collaboration on 20kW Folding Container

Overview

Are 20-foot shipping containers repurposed for hotel rooms?

These 20-foot shipping containers are repurposed into stunning luxurious hotel rooms. Australia-based firm Contained specializes in transforming vessels that originally hauled heavy cargo all over the world into well-designed lodgings. The portable structures have the unique ability to travel almost anywhere.

What is a container hotel?

Each 20-foot container easily opens up, flips out, and unfolds into an individual hotel room that opens up to the surrounding landscape, wherever that may be. As the story goes, Contained directors Anatoly Mezhov and Irene Polo envisioned these as ephemeral accommodations placed where there were no previous options.

What is a 'contained' hotel room?

As the story goes, Contained directors Anatoly Mezhov and Irene Polo envisioned these as ephemeral accommodations placed where there were no previous options. Born out of their love of traveling, the idea was to create a portable hotel room for short stays that can be set up anywhere. "There are so many beautiful places to go visit.

What is a portable hotel room?

Let's create a portable hotel room that's beautiful, sustainable, and comfortable for short-term accommodation and activate some of these spaces," Mezhov says. Each unit contains a pop-out section that houses a queen-sized bed, a middle sitting room outfitted with a sink and bar area, and a bathroom with a toilet and a surprisingly large shower.
